Butterflies in the Garden

Saturday 19th July will be Garden day 10am to 12noon, with the usual jobs of tending, watering, planting and weeding. Also a good tidy-up ready for summer outdoor events by path-clearing, litter-picking etc. It would be lovely to set aside a little time to enjoy the tiny lives that share our space, like the ladybirds and hoverflies, and to identify as many of the butterflies as possible. From 18th July to 10th August the Big Butterfly Count invites us to count for 15 minutes at a time, and send results to bigbutterflycount.org, where you can find ID help (this page can be printed out to help you: <https://bigbutterflycount.org/butterfly-conservation.org/assets/charts/butterfly-id-sheet-england.pdf>). To set the bar, Pam has already seen 7 kinds in the Jubilee Garden.
